

So how can The Office of Jacob James Welch help survivors internationally

What can we offer:

I am committed to Supporting. Adding and advocating for those who are fleeing their homes due to the war in Ukraine, While I have been honored to speak and attempt to support families internationally with financial temporary support, I would like to offer more. I am a huge advocate of mental health, emotional trauma communication and support while focusing on avocation and objectives to reaching personal goals and growth. Therefore I would like to have a 24 hour international survivor hotline to anyone who needs to emotionally decompress, vent and or is just looking to talk.

Where can Ukrainian and other survivors get this services:

This service will be through my Ontario County Supportive Services website. I have reached out to the New York State Office of New Americans to see if this is something we can collaboratively work on.
